

One Cold Night

As war comes,

And war goes,

Soldiers lie in the midnight snow.

Shell shocked from the things they've seen,

As they hear a poor man scream.

Used shells lay everywhere,

One soldier sees a man's blank stare.

He wonders where he has been,

For he'll never go home again.

